VITAR Veterinae Milk Thistle Oil

Cold-pressed purple milk thistle seed oil

A source of essential unsaturated fatty acids, especially omega-6 linoleic acid, and antioxidants

A medicinal plant referred to in ancient manuscripts, milk thistle is a flower from the Asteraceae family that grows in the Mediterranean regions of Europe, North Africa and the Middle East. Its thorny appearance resulted in it being dubbed "the Crown of Christ". Commonly used to treat snakebites in antiquity, it has since been applied to counteract conditions affecting the liver and bile. In addition to supporting the regeneration of blood vessels, it moderates manifestations of varicose veins, lends the body protection from toxic substances and aids sufferers of migraines, depression, asthma and allergies.

Milk thistle is a valuable source of essential fatty acids, vitamins, phytosterols and antioxidants. In pets, the oil helps improve the state of the fur and skin and promotes resistance to oxidative stress on cells and tissues, thereby helping to safeguard the body from external influences.

Besides omega-6 polyunsaturated fatty acids, which are highly beneficial to health and only found in food, the oil contains the vitamins A, B, D and E and important minerals. A powerful antioxidant, it helps alleviate conditions of the fur and skin, supports pets' immunity and significantly boosts energy levels.

- A rich source of vitamin E in natural form
- High content of omega-6 polyunsaturated fatty acids
- Helps alleviate problems with the fur and skin
- Strengthens the immune system

Content of unsaturated fatty acids:

- Oily 15-29%
- Linoleic 46-65%

Pleasant in taste, it is easy to add it into food.
